New Game Regulations

New regulations concerning the hunting and killing of game in the north country have been put in effect, as announced by Benjamin Lawton, Chief Game Guardian of the Province. Game residents north of parallel 55 have been permitted to kill game at any season of the year for their own use, but this privilege has been abated by residents and others. At the last Session of the Legislature the game act was amended to provide that no person shall kill game birds save during the open season which in the case of ducks and geese is from September 15 to December 14, and for prairie chickens and partridge from October 15 to October 31. Exception has been made in the case of White Winged Scoter commonly called Jack Duck. These may be killed at any time north of the 55th parallel. In the case of big game the act now provides that residents of that part of the province residing north of the 55th parallel may kill big game during the close season only after having obtained a resident's big game license, but in no case are big game animals to be killed during the close season unless required for food.

THE PESTILENT MOSQUITO

A Campaign of Investigation Being Carried On in the Fraser River Valley.

The Entomological Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture is conducting investigations in the Fraser Valley in connection with the mosquito. Of course the first proceeding in this task of combating the pest is to locate the breeding grounds; and in this work the branch has received much assistance from the Canadian Air Board which has been accomplished in locating breeding areas by means of the camera and the aeroplane is detailed in an article in the Dominion of Agriculture of the Fraser Valley of Canada. So far, the Lower Fraser Valley of British Columbia constitutes the region in which the campaign has been mainly carried on. The mosquito which embraces 2,000 square miles of territory, was started in 1919, the first season an aeroplane was employed in a scouting expedition to ascertain the mosquito fauna of the district. The second season was devoted to a study of the factors determining mosquito abundance, for this purpose a motor boat and motor launch were utilized to traverse the huge cottonwood flood swampy areas, the breeding places of the pest were revealed. In a similar manner flooded swamps, the breeding places of the pest were revealed. In this way the knowledge of location necessary for the eradication of the mosquito was obtained. The extent of the breeding of mosquitoes in the district referred to was determined when it is stated that, by actual count, 3,218 fertile eggs were found in a square foot of sod cut from a meadow situated to flooding. If the entire area surveyed were similarly flooded, the mosquito census would run into something over a thousand times the millions.

How To Use Hopper Poison

A great deal of grasshopper poison bait is being wasted that has been found by the department of agriculture through the fact that the bait is often put out at the wrong time of day and the bait is not effective for an hour or two after its appearance at night. Grasshoppers begin to feed in the morning and the sun becomes hot. The bait should be put out at the time the bait is most effective for an hour or two after its appearance at night. The effectiveness of the bait depends much upon the time of day it is put out. The bait is most effective for an hour or two after its appearance at night. The bait is most effective for an hour or two after its appearance at night.

Marketing of Registered Seed Grain

Plans which have been under consideration for some time by officials of the provincial department of agriculture and the agricultural college in cooperation with the officials of the Dominion Seed Branch in Calgary have now been perfected for the establishment of an effective scheme for the marketing of registered seed grain produced in Alberta. These plans are the result of a conference held at St. Stephen, crop commissioner of the department of agriculture; Prof. Culler, of the Field Husbandry Branch of the Agricultural College; and G. M. Stewart, representative of the Dominion Seed Branch and it is to be hoped that the executive of the seed branch at Ottawa will agree to these plans. Announcement of the plans was made by Hon. Geo. Howland, Minister of Agriculture.

Plan For Marketing

The new plan for the marketing of the seed will operate as follows: The Dominion Seed Branch will continue to produce as formerly pure registered seed wheat, oats and barley and to handle this seed as it has been done in the past, and in co-operation with the seed branch of the provincial department of agriculture, the grading and bin inspection will be attended to entirely by the Dominion Seed Branch. The seed will be registered as usual by the Canadian Seed Growers' Association.

Will Arrange Exhibits

Arrangements are to be made whereby central cleaning facilities for the seed will be established.

Another Feature of the marketing plan which will be inaugurated this year will be the placing of a properly elected exhibit of seed and grasses at some of the state fairs of the central and western states. This exhibit will be a combination exhibit for the purpose not only of encouraging a market for Alberta seed but also for immigration purposes. The exhibit will be placed in states from where it is felt suitable settlers can be drawn, settlers who are in a position financially and who are desirous of establishing themselves in Alberta.

A TOWN LOOKS LIKE ITS CITIZENS.

Is there anything wrong with your town?

Are there rubbish obstructing ways that people may have to use in an emergency?

Are the basements of public buildings full of rubbish?

Are there any junk lots filled with unsightly trash?

If any of these conditions exist, there is something the matter with your town.

If your towns were cleaned, your junk ached and you had children, you would go to a doctor. You would go to a doctor. You would go to a doctor.

Your town is sick. It gets clogged up like your system, and is coming to a very serious condition. It is coming to you.

There have been fires in your town in the past you have had to bear the burden of the power of taxation.

Food that could have been eaten is wasted.

Insurance money with all its machinery is a substitute. It has purchasing power, not food value.

It may mean the saving of lives.

Your own home may be destroyed by the careless act of a neighbor.

His home is in the same danger as yours.

Sanitation, fresh air and cleanliness never cause spontaneous combustion; follow the rules of sanitation and fire will not.

It is your town. You live in it. "Fire Control."

THE POWER OF GALIC SPEECH

Highland Scotsman claim that Gallic has potentialities unknown to other tongues. Just as a rat will devour a barn in which the bagpipes have been played, Galic speech can not only destroy the life of the trees, but it is the language of command for mortals. Proof of this is furnished by the following: A Scotchman, St. Thomas, Ont., which recently appeared in the Toronto "Globe." Crown Attorney McCormick demonstrated the potentialities of the Galic language to the Court. A party of Russians and Poles were on the carpet in connection with an assault on a woman, a monstrous exposure. A lively altercation between the complainant, a Mrs. McKirdy and her friends, and the accused, Phil N. Nikoff, ensued. Chief Armstrong called in vain for order, and McCormick's gavel had no effect. Then Mr. McCormick drew his six feet of Glenquarry mace to its full height, pointed a stern index finger at the Poles, and let fly some choice selections in Galic. The chatter stopped as if by magic, and the foreigners gazed at Mr. McCormick in respectful silence.

More Than One Way.

A gentleman with a sensitive and cultivated ear was annoyed by the persistent and wretched piano playing of a woman who would play the piano in her flat. One day he met her in the hall with her four-year-old daughter.

"Your little girl plays quite well for a child of her age," he remarked in the most friendly manner. "I hear her practicing every day."

The offender made sure he was out when she opened the piano again.

The other day we were putting a couple of new lighting units in a grocery. The bill was up and I was handing him the reflector, when a woman came in and started to read off her order to the grocer.

Mrs. Aitchison, (formerly Sade), was at the camp or had also started away. Mr. Millar proceeded to that point on the slough where it empties into the river, and finding the spot suitable spent some little time there bathing.

The bathing equipment Mrs. Aitchison had in her hands when last seen at the camp at 7:15, consisted of a faded blue bathing suit trimmed with orange, brown tweed coat (to wear over it), bathing stockings and a pair of Fleetfoot rubber tennis shoes (the latter borrowed from Mr. Millar); she also carried a long, voluminous silk-lined cloak.

After spending possibly 20 or 25 minutes bathing, Mr. Millar returned to the car to be shortly later joined by the Cutlers, when after a short discussion arose as to what was Master Jack's going out to the ranch had arranged to spend Sunday afternoon picnicking and it was suggested that W. H. Millar would join the party. In accordance with this program W. H. Millar, accompanied by Mrs. Aitchison and Jacky Cutler, motored down from the ranch on Sunday afternoon and being joined by Mr. and Mrs. P. Cutler and Mrs. Cutler, Senior, proceeded from the ranch at about 4:30 in the afternoon to a point north-east of Macleod and close to the junction of Willow Creek and the Old Man River, about a mile east of the Dixon Ranch. The point at which the party arrived was the backwater of the Old Man on the north of the long slough which empties into the river. It is estimated that at least 400 to 500 people were at the picnic. The lunch was eaten being about 4:00 p.m. The picnic was a very successful one. The picnic was a very successful one. The picnic was a very successful one.

by running water and this condition in-creased for some distance down the stream.

On Messrs. Millar and Cutler checking up the clothes found there were missing the bathing equipment (which included a bath towel not before mentioned) and the silk-lined cloak.

The clothing found was replaced at the spot where discovered, and the two men proceeded to search for some clue to Mrs. Aitchison's whereabouts. No trace of her approach, as the river could be fished—after further search of the scrub and undergrowth, growing unsuccessful, the entire party returned to Macleod at about 9:30 to organize a larger body of searchers on the theory that the missing woman might have become lost in the thick scrub growth that covers a wide area around the vicinity in which her clothing was found.

On their return to town Sergeant Caswell, of the A.P.P., was informed of the circumstances and at once set in motion communication with Supt. De-Mers, R.C.M.P., Macleod, who detailed five constables to Sergeant Caswell's aid, and he further received volunteer civilians to the number of five and returning to the scene of the disappearance this party prosecuted a vigorous search for the missing woman for the greater part of the night without success.

Mr. Burke, of Nanton, brother of Mrs. Aitchison, had been phoned for on the return of the Cutlers and arrived in Macleod at about 2 o'clock Monday morning, and at about 4:30 had organized another search party who continued in fruitless efforts till 10 o'clock Monday morning when Mr. and Mrs. Cutler (of this party) returned to town to consult Sergeant Caswell as to further measures.

He at once phoned to Lethbridge for the A.P.P. blood hounds. It is a noticeable fact that the number of the searchers have been persistent from the start in the theory that Mrs. Aitchison is not drowned, and that she would be found—whether dead or alive—in the vicinity of her disappearance.

The A.P.P. headquarters at Lethbridge detailed Constable McWilliam to bring up the hounds with him 35 minutes after he received his phone call at Callaghan. On arrival Constable McWilliam with the blood hounds he and Sergeant Caswell remained to the scene of the disappearance and Constable McWilliams placed the dogs on scent at the spot where the clothing was found, using the clothing as the dogs initiative on scent and carrying dogs on leash as is usual.

On getting the scent the animals plunged towards the river's edge and afterward on being started from the bank repeated their first performance which—leaving traces to the theory

THE EMPRESS THEATRE CURRENT ATTRACTIONS

UNUSUAL CAST IN "THE LOVE FLOWER"

D. W. Griffith Selects His Best Players for His Latest United Artists Production

In the selection of his players, David W. Griffith, the master of screen production, has universally used the most excellent cast, so as to assure his production of the most faithful interpretation. No better example of his excellent judgment in the choice of the interpreters for the screen lovers could be cited than in the players he presents in his latest masterpiece, "The Love Flower," which United Artists release will be the feature at the Empress Theatre next Wednesday and Thursday.

Among the players in this unusually dramatic love story of the South Sea Islands are none other than the Richard Barthelmess, Carol Dempster, George MacArthur, Anders Randolph, Florence Short, Crawford Kent, Adelaide Laurie, William James and Jack Manning.

The one most important thing in casting is the securing of players whose facial expressions can properly emphasize the characteristics of the parts. No one in the entire motion picture field could have been better chosen for the part of Bruce Sanders, a wealthy young plantation owner, than

Mr. Barthelmess, for his very being just typifies the very thing that Mr. Griffith portrays throughout the entire production, and with his wealth of experience, Mr. Barthelmess gives the character a particularly intelligent interpretation.

A college man, educated at Trinity College, he has won for himself during the past four years a leading place among stars as the interpreter of wonderful characters. He is the possessor of a real simplicity and naturalness that is ideal, and prior to the time that "The Love Flower" was begun, Mr. Barthelmess spent weeks studying the characteristics of the people of the South Sea Islands, so that he could better depict the character of the young planter which Mr. Griffith had chosen for him. His work has been very well rewarded for he was never so faithfully portrayed as in this young player.

The various characters of the plot in the story is portrayed by Carol Dempster, in a manner that is causing the most favorable criticism; her charming personality is splendidly fitted from prop to part, and she is given every opportunity in which she goes to meet unusual extremes to save her father from disaster, she is given every opportunity to show her latent talents.

That it is with each and every character actor that Mr. Griffith has chosen for his production. Each chosen with utmost care for just the specific character he had in mind, and with his wealth of experience, Mr. Barthelmess gives the character a particularly intelligent interpretation.

POLLY'S POPULARITY IS AT HIGH TIDE

Beloved Not Only By Members of Her Profession As Well

To be the favorite of the public is one thing, but to be a favorite and popular with the members of her own profession is yet another thing, and a true test of greatness.

There is not another actress who is so beloved by all who know her, from prop boys to players and directors, as Pauline Frederick, famous in her pictures.

There is not an actor or actress in the picture who wouldn't gladly give up a big role with some other star, to play with Miss Frederick, and she is called "Polly" as she is affectionately called by all her intimates.

The first part of it is that her popularity with those who know her is not only because of her great talent as an actress but because of her real womanly lines.

An instance of this occurred when Lady Yamana Titus, one of the best known character actresses on the screen, arrived at the R-C studio in Hollywood to play a part in Miss Frederick's current starring vehicle, "Two Kinds of Women," based upon Jackson Gregory's novel, "Judith of White Lake Ranch," and to be screened at the Empress Theatre next Monday and Tuesday.

Colin Campbell, Miss Frederick's director, met Mrs. Titus and outlined to her the character she was to portray.

"Now, in this," said the director, "you are to be Miss Frederick's housekeeper, and you are to get over that, you are very fond of her."

"Well," returned Mrs. Titus with a smile, "that won't be at all hard for me to do. All I'll have to do is just act natural. For if I ever loved a girl more than that woman is Pauline Frederick, I don't know what I would do if I ever had to play a part where I would have to be mean to her."

And that is the sentiment of most of the other players, too.

THREE FAMOUS "STARS" IN CONSTANCE BINNEY'S EXCELLENT PICTURE "THE SLEEP WALKER"

"The Hennessey troupe," that's what fastidious persons called the Constance Binney company as it made "The Sleep Walker" for Famous Players-Lasky Corporation. The remark was called for by the fact that the production has "three stars," same as a well-known pre-Volstead drink manufactured by a certain "Hennessey." The "three stars" of "The Sleep Walker," which opens Friday at the Empress Theatre for 2 days are Constance Binney, star of the production; Florence Roberts, famous old-time stage star in "Zaza," "Supha," and "The Eternal Magdalene"; and Clio Rileigh, star co-star in Paramount Pictures, who, after a prolonged plunge into private life, recently returned to the screen.

The story deals with the experiences of an innocent convent girl suddenly drawn into a vortex of intrigue, complicated in a thrillingly dramatic manner by her own habit of sleepwalking. The fact that it was written by Aubrey Stauffer, former theatre owner and manager, is offered as proof of its possession of audience quality. Wells Hastings wrote the scenario while Edward Le Saint directed. The supporting players are excellent.

BROADWAY STAR WITH PAULINE FREDERICK

Otis Harlan, veteran comedian, is responsible for most of the fun in "Two Kinds of Women," an R-C Picture starring Pauline Frederick.

PAULINE FREDERICK, in "TWO KINDS OF WOMEN," an R-C Picture.

ick, at the Empress Theatre Monday and Tuesday, should be a great success.

Harlan has been famous as a stage comedian for years. Several years ago he was a bona fide Broadway star and was featured in the production of "Little Boy Blue." He has also appeared in support of many of the greatest stars.

Harlan has also had a varied experience in motion pictures. His work in support of Doris May in her first R-C production, "The Fugitive Agent," brought him into the forefront recently, where he bled for his fame.

"THE LOVE FLOWER" A WONDER FUL STORY

Latest Griffith Production Based on the Collier's Weekly story, "Black Beach" by Ralph Stock

Everyone seems to agree that next to the Collier's Weekly story, "Black Beach," the most perfect motion picture is a real honest-to-goodness story. It's that type of a dramatic tale that David W. Griffith has based his latest production, "The Love Flower," on. This wonderfully dramatic story, "The Love Flower," will be a feature at the Empress Theatre next Wednesday and Thursday.

The story has to do with Stella Bevan, whose father returns from serving on unexcused sentence in prison to find himself a social alien in his home town and the breach between him and his unsympathetic wife is widened by Bevan's affection, and his wife's hatred for his daughter by his first wife.

Bevan meets the man, Crane, who "sins him" and Bevan and his daughter decide to go away and live over again. On their way Bevan is informed of his wife's infidelity and goes back to prove the charge. During a quarrel, the man in the case is shot. Crane immediately determines that a murder and interprets the daughter on her way to the boat, but Bevan coming up from the sea makes a captive of the detective, until he and his daughter have embarked. They land on a south sea uncharted island where Stella meets a young chap on his way to the port from which she and her father had fled. In the knowledge of the natural attraction which springs up between them, this boy does not understand her terror for him, but yields to her unexplained entreaties to go away.

The boy, Sanders, arrives at the port and Crane, who has heard rumors of a man and a girl living on a deserted island arranges passage with the unsuspecting Sanders on his cargo vessel. On their arrival at the island, Stella, seeing Crane, refuses to talk to Sanders, believing that he has brought Crane there deliberately.

A special rate of a fare and a third will be in effect on all railways for the Calgary Exhibition from stations in Alberta, Saskatchewan and British Columbia, as far west as Nelson and Golden. For those who are fond of camping out, the Calgary Auto Club provides a beautiful camping ground close to the Exhibition grounds which the club places at the disposal of Exhibition visitors free of charge. Every convenience is provided at St. Patrick's Island, on which the camp is located, offers an ideal spot for a week's camping out.

"Never spend all you make" sounds all right. The trouble with most of us is to make enough for what we want to spend.

EMRESS FRIDAY & SATURDAY

She sinks Sanders' boat and attempts by various means to murder either Crane, or both Crane and Sanders, plotting such endings to the extreme of including herself, so as to save her father from being taken by the mainland and tried for murder.

During the time the three men and the girl are marooned on the island, a complete understanding is reached between Stella and Sanders, and to either plot to save her father. No end of excitement is created when Crane attracts the attention of his assistant on the far-away mainland in a tremendous bluff. Crane believes he has killed his man by cutting him over a cliff. Bevan saves him and with the detective the happy trail away, only to return later as man and wife to join him on the island.

This story is filled with an endless amount of action and suspense and conceded to be one of the most dramatic stories that has ever been produced by Mr. Griffith. The story is so popular that it was run in Collier's Weekly, it being from the pen of Ralph Stock.

Calgary Exhibition

Prospects are exceedingly promising for the best Exhibition ever held at Calgary. The date placed June 29 to July 7, when for four days His Excellency, Baron Byng, of Vinny, Governor-General of Canada will open the honor in Calgary on his official tour. The Governor-General will be accompanied by the Governor-General's Day, and will take an active part in the Exhibition activities. From the retail trade of the 7th, Girls' and Boys' Day, which is expected to be the biggest day of the exhibition, the Governor-General will be sent out to the children of the southern half of the province to the guests of the management that day.

Entries closed on June 16 and there are not the slightest indications that the Calgary exhibition this year will surpass anything ever seen in Alberta. The fact that His Excellency the Governor-General is intensely interested in live stock of all kinds and will be present during the judging of several of the classes at the Calgary Exhibition has attracted record entry from the province of Canada. The number of live stock entries received from the United States has been increasing year by year and this year a number of the largest breeding establishments in the West are making their first appearance but as exhibitors on the Western Canada fair circuit, opening at Calgary.

In the way of entertainment, the best of the year has been obtained. The great variety of the program, the choir at the 1221 Exhibition has induced the management to enlarge on the idea for this year. The choir, which has been combined for the purpose of singing at the Calgary Exhibition, a man band will also feature the musical program and several of the best musical vaudeville acts will be secured on the continent have been engaged. Numerous other high class numbers will combine to form the best grand stand program ever presented at Calgary.

The grand stand performance will conclude each evening with a grand fireworks spectacle "Tanks in Action" or "Breaking the Hindenburg Line." This is a most elaborate piece and will prove a popular with patrons of all ages.

Horse races will be the big feature of the program on July 1st, 3rd, 4th, 5th, and automobile races on July 6th and 7th. A splendid array of race horses have been in training at the Exhibition grounds since early in the spring getting ready for the opening of the Western Canada fair circuit. The entries for the Exhibition race meet at Calgary, when they made wonderful records.

A special rate of a fare and a third will be in effect on all railways for the Calgary Exhibition from stations in Alberta, Saskatchewan and British Columbia, as far west as Nelson and Golden. For those who are fond of camping out, the Calgary Auto Club provides a beautiful camping ground close to the Exhibition grounds which the club places at the disposal of Exhibition visitors free of charge. Every convenience is provided at St. Patrick's Island, on which the camp is located, offers an ideal spot for a week's camping out.

What Makes Men Conceted

All female creatures from the cradle to the grave, proceed on the basis that all men are conceited. This is perhaps particularly true of the man who is no longer lover, but husband. As lover he had wide streaks of humility in his composition; a husband usually regards humility as a waste product. More than one I have seen some dull woman flatter my husband, and have had him tell me afterward what person she is. I have yet to meet the man who fails to feel that the woman who enters him has something sound and right about her. More than once I have flattered a man just to see him expand, says an anonymous writer in "Harper's Magazine." Indeed, it is a stupid or inexperienced woman who has not done this, and usually because she wanted to get something out of him. In his dealing with a woman it is quite easy to sell a man a gold brick. Doubtless the well-known law of compensation works here; if men get plenty of self-confidence out of their self-confidence, it is something for which they have to pay the price. A man who knows that a certain that the self-satisfied type that appreciates itself most highly has been the most successful type. The trait has been very valuable to the race, at any rate in the rough and tumble conditions through which many have lived and struggled in evolving from the days of Pilestrucation. Women have done their bit in civilizing this world, and they are not satisfied because they like successful men and have married them when they had the opportunity to do so. It is a fact saying that they have married conceited men and bred conceited boys, whose conceit they fostered by praise.

Fourth Fortnightly Crop Report

Issued by Publicity Commissioner, Agricultural Department, Edmonton, Alberta, Saturday, June 17.

Dry conditions prevail over the major portion of the province, and the need of rain is urgent, but generally speaking the condition of the crops in Alberta is fairly satisfactory at the present date, according to the official reports received by the agricultural department.

The south-western portion of the province has been favored with a considerable amount of moisture since May 1st, and crop conditions there are better than for some years, and give indication of producing an excellent yield. The entire western half of southern Alberta is, in fact, showing a very encouraging condition. Another cheering feature of the present situation is that the grasshopper campaign is proving effective in most districts and the percentage of loss from this cause will be small.

The south-eastern and central areas of the province, however, are experiencing very dry conditions, and many places are in urgent need of rain, but the grain is standing up well in spite of the lack of moisture. Good general rales before the end of June will put the grain in very satisfactory shape. Timothy and other hay crops in the central and southern districts will be light this year. Alfalfa and rye are showing splendid growth in the south, but in the north and west crop have suffered from lack of moisture and from the severe frost of ten days ago.

South-western areas.—Good growing conditions prevail from Calgary south to Lethbridge and to the boundary and westward, where precipitation has been reasonably heavy. Rye is 20 inches high, spring wheat shows a vigorous growth of from 5 to 7 inches high. Alfalfa will be ready to cut within the next ten days. Considerable summer fallow is being done. Grasshoppers are very numerous and active, but are being checked in many localities by effective work with bait. South-eastern areas.—Rain is needed everywhere, precipitation having been light since May 1st, but the grain will not suffer greatly for another week. South of the Red Deer river to the boundary, and east of Calgary to Medicine Hat very dry conditions prevail, although there have been some good local showers. Alfalfa and rye crops are splendid and the pasture in most localities is the best for several years. Further local showers fell over these areas, the latter part of the week.

Central areas.—Dry conditions prevail almost the entire distance from Edmonton south to Calgary, the section suffering the most being from Olds south to Calgary and eastward. There have been some local showers, and general rains before the end of June will put the grain in satisfactory condition. Rainfall, however, has been light over the whole territory from Edmonton to Calgary and eastward toward the boundary and along the main lines of the national railway.

Northern areas.—Northern areas are experiencing dry conditions, but the crop generally are still fairly satisfactory. Good local showers fell on Friday, June 16th, over the Edmonton district and south along the C. and E. Grande Prairie and Peace River districts. Some need of rain from Edmonton east to the boundary and west to the foothills, pasture and hay crops have suffered from lack of moisture, but the grain is standing up well and will show plenty of grain to show when plowed.

South-eastern areas.—Rain is needed everywhere, precipitation having been light since May 1st, but the grain will not suffer greatly for another week. South of the Red Deer river to the boundary, and east of Calgary to Medicine Hat very dry conditions prevail, although there have been some good local showers. Alfalfa and rye crops are splendid and the pasture in most localities is the best for several years. Further local showers fell over these areas, the latter part of the week.

IN THE SAME LINE.

President Neilson of Smith's College was in conversation with a druggist. The druggist was dull and the traveling salesman was better than any man at all. Dr. Neilson soon discovered that his companion had mistaken him for a colleague and did nothing to correct the impression. Said the druggist: "What's your line? Mine's skinner." "So is mine," said the president of Smith's.

Mother's Day has passed with the flowers. For the balance of the year mother will do most of her flouring in the kitchen.

A New York pagist has taken to writing poetry. He should be able to give his verse the right swing.

The Drought Area Relief Act

The Drought Area Relief Act has been passed to enable persons residing in certain areas of Southern Alberta and their creditors to adjust their accounts, and to prevent the dissipation of the resources of needy residents by a multiplicity of action and other legal proceedings.

Any person who has been resident and actively engaged in farming operations in such drought area for at least one year prior to January 1st, 1922, and is still resident and engaged in farming can make application before the provisions of the Act.

The duty of the Commissioner is to endeavor to adjust matters between residents in the said area and their creditors so as to provide for the satisfaction of just claims.

An ardent farmer within the drought relief area, or any creditor of such resident farmer, can apply to the Commissioner for an enquiry into and an adjustment of his affairs.

It is recommended that applications be forwarded at once, as if there is any delay the detail work necessary in the adjustment of each account cannot be completed in time after the crop is harvested.

A resident farmer, or creditor, failing to make application before August 15th next does so at his own risk as it may not be possible to get the necessary help and complete enquiries after that date.

For further particulars apply to F. J. FREEMAN, Commissioner, Calgary.

Rathwell

The ladies of the Allendale and Rathwell U.F.W.A. held a sale of work, home cooking and afternoon tea in the Town Hall, Macleod, on Saturday, June 17th.

The Allendale orchestra was in attendance and rendered several selections during the afternoon, contributing greatly to the success and also to the pleasure of those who attended the function.

The ladies responsible for the successful carrying out of this very pleasant social affair feel their thanks are due to the many who so kindly came to their assistance, notably the Veterans for the use of their tables, the orchestra for the splendid music rendered, and ladies and gentlemen for contributions in the shape of delicacies so kindly donated.

The proceeds of the tea will be devoted to church work in Allendale and Rathwell districts, where religious services are held each alternate Sunday. It appears this was not generally known.

Any ladies in town having dishes, pie plates, jars and baking tins loaned to them for the carrying home of articles purchased are requested to leave same at the Co-Operative Store, where the owners can get them on application.

Those who have fields of fall rye if not already cutting the same are making arrangements to do so.

Arthur White is keeping a wary eye over weed infested farms in the Carleton district.

On Sunday last the annual address to members of the U.F.A. was given by Mr. Crowe, who spoke in a highly interesting and instructive manner, the subject of his address being "Chastity." A very pleasing feature of the service was the singing of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey, which was especially good. Mrs. Harvey presented a wonderfully sweet voice, and powerful, lasting, bearing evidence of much hard and able training. We trust this will not be the last occasion Mr. and Mrs. Harvey will sing at the whitties on many previous occasions.

The wheat is looking very promising at the present time. As yet the dreaded grasshopper has not done very much damage, every much of the "Johnny-on-the-spot" in the matter of putting out the pest. The mixture is said to be deadly in its effect, fields of grain in which the pests were beginning to do mischief have been practically cleared with one application. Many are of the opinion that the worst of the pest, but as the insects have nearly reached the winged stage in their career, it is almost too early to yet to hazard an opinion in the matter.

The school children are beginning to plan for the summer school holidays now soon to begin. There is an old saying: "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy." What about Jill?

Land is still being prepared for the planting of oats for green feed.

Parts of the district received a very heavy downpour of rain the night of last week, in some cases the storm being likened to a cloud burst, pools of water being left all over the fields and roads, saturating the ground to a depth of nearly a foot. The parts of the storm was very clear-cut, the rain falling over a strip of not more than a couple of miles, increasing in intensity the further east it travelled. There are still sections where a heavy rain would be very acceptable, but even where a light shower fell the ground is still moist and vegetation is coming along at a rapid rate. On the average farmers have not more than half the acreage sown in past seasons.

It is surprising how gossipy some people become over a rural telephone line, forgetful of the fact that a dozen "listeners in" may be hanging on every word that is said. And the "listeners in" are the ones who get here if they have the least suspicion that some one on the line dares to take down a receiver while they gossip with a neighbor over past, present and future events. Gossip—ever private matters—may be discussed over a public line, but one word in a newspaper and it becomes a really dreadful matter.

At Barry, Ont., the other day an O. A. agent was given three months in jail for perjury. After a little the right man will get the 4th Member too much of Georgian hospitality, even if they did not put a match to the tar.

Tenders Wanted.

SEALED TENDERS, marked "Tenders for the D. Mills land," will be received by the undersigned up to the 10th of July, 1922, for the purchase of this property near the town of Lethbridge, by the late David Mills, being "all of the portions of the north half of the north half of section 22, in Township Seven (7), Range Twenty-five (25), West of the 4th Meridian, which are not covered by any of the waters of the Belly River, containing 155 acres, more or less." Tenders must make two offers, one to be paid cash and the other to be paid in installments, the balance payable in three equal annual payments with interest at seven per cent. per annum, or any tender not necessarily accepted.
